STAFF REPORT BY: Jennifer Bruno, Policy Analyst

AFFECTED COUNCIL DISTRICTS: District 2

ADMINISTRATIVE DEPT: Community Development
AND CONTACT PERSON: Marilynn Lewis, Principal Planner

Potential Motions

1. ["I move that the Council"] Adopt a resolution assigning the honorary name of "Adam Galvez Street" to 300 South Street between Redwood Road and I-15.
2. ["I move that the Council"] Not adopt a resolution assigning the honorary name of "Adam Galvez Street" to 300 South Street between Redwood Road and I-15.

And/or

3. ["I further move that the Council"] not accept any new petitions for Honorary Street Name Changes until a formal policy can be reviewed and adopted by the Council, and that Planning proceed with processing only those Honorary Street Name petitions with complete application information.
 - Staff note: There are two Honorary Street Name Change petitions aside from the Adam Galvez petition: a petition to assign the honorary name of "Japantown Street" to 100 South between 200 West and 300 West (this petition has complete information), and a petition to assign the honorary name of "Mt. Ararat Street" to 800 East between I-80 and 3300 South (the petition is not complete and the applicant's contact information is not correct).

The following information was provided previously for the Council Work Session on November 14, 2006. It is provided again for your reference.

KEY ELEMENTS:

- A. There are two issues for Council consideration:

1. Petition 400-06-33 - A request by Michael Clara, Junior Cruz, and Boy Scout Troop 987 for an honorary name change for 300 South Street between Redwood Road and Interstate-15, to "Adam Galvez Street"
2. Honorary Street Name Change Policy Modifications

B. Council Action Options:

1. The Council may choose to deal with one or both issues, or may choose to defer a decision regarding Petition 400-06-33 until a formal policy for honorary street name changes has been discussed and adopted.
2. The Council may wish to move this petition and the petition regarding Japantown (see item E below) forward, since application information is complete, but ask that no further applications be accepted until a formal policy can be discussed and adopted.
3. The Council may wish to hold all petitions, and not accept any new petitions, until a formal policy can be discussed and adopted.

C. Regarding petition 400-06-33, honorary naming of "Adam Galvez Street":

1. A resolution has been submitted for Council consideration that would change the name of 300 South Street From Interstate-15 to Redwood Road, on an honorary basis, to "Adam Galvez Street."
2. This petition was submitted on October 2, 2006 by Michael Clara, Junior Cruz, and Boy Scout Troop 987, with the intention of honoring fallen Marine Corporal Adam Galvez, a member of the Poplar Grove community. Corporal Galvez was killed in the Iraqi conflict earlier this year.
3. Over the years there have been a number of national figures have been recognized in Salt Lake City with honorary street namings: Martin Luther King, Jr. (600 South), Cesar Chavez (500 South), Rosa Parks (200 East), Karl Malone (100 South between 300 and 400 West).
4. The Administration's transmittal notes the following:
 - a) Prior to submission of the Honorary Street Name Change application, the applicants solicited signatures from property owners on either side of the section of 300 South Street. A total of 78 signatures were presented in the application. In the original application letter, the applicant states that though the application form does not explicitly say so, the Planning Division informed the applicant that signatures of residents along the subject section of 300 South must be presented with the application. For Council reference, see attached to this staff report, the Salt Lake City application for an Honorary Street Name Change, as well as the former official policy of Salt Lake City for Street Name Changes, since recinded (attached).
 - b) On September 27, 2006, the applicant made a presentation to the Poplar Grove Community Council. The Community Council voted unanimously to support the petition. The Chair of the Community Council prepared a letter of support (attached in the Administration's Transmittal) and it was included in the application.
 - c) On October 23, 2006 Planning Staff held an open house. 5 people attended and no negative comments were received.
 - d) Requests for comment were submitted to Engineering, Permits, Transportation, Public Utilities, Police, Zoning Enforcement, Public Services, and Fire, and no negative comments were received.
 - e) Planning Commission action is not required.

- f) Honorary Street Name Changes have no effect on certified mailing addresses or business listings.
- g) The Administration's Recommendation – The Administration's transmittal notes that after discussing the apparent confusion regarding policies and procedures with the Mayor, the recommendation to the Council is to hold all considerations for Honorary Street Name Changes, including the current application, until a formal policy can be discussed and adopted.
- h) The West Salt Lake Master Plan (1995) does not specifically address the issue of honorary name changes.
- i) The vision statement of the Final Report of the Salt Lake City Futures Commission states that Salt Lake City "Embraces pluralism and encourages diversity in population, urban design, and cultural expression."

D. Regarding Honorary Street Name Change Policy Modifications:

- 1. Attached is a memo from the Director of Community Development requesting that the City Council place a hold on all applications for Honorary Street Name Changes until the Planning Staff has had time to develop and discuss procedural changes and guidelines with the Council.
 - 2. The Administration indicates that they anticipate completing recommendations for policy modifications for Council review and adoption by January 15, 2007.
 - 3. The Council may wish to identify key policies that they would like included and/or clarified in the Administration's recommendations regarding Honorary Street Name Changes, such as:
 - a) Notification process of affected parties and how their input will be considered;
 - b) Guidelines on who may apply for an honorary street name change;
 - c) Guidelines on who or what may be honored (if name changes should be limited to historical figures or events, and/or school mascots), and criteria used to determine the appropriateness of the request;
 - d) The current fee charged ($250) compared to the cost of staff resources needed to process these requests (initiate a study similar to business licensing to see if fees are covering costs).
 - 4. The Council may want to use the process for the current petition (described above), as a starting point for discussion.
 - 5. The Administration's memo indicates:
 - a) Currently the materials required by the application are "inconsistent,"
 - b) Criteria are unclear for what categories of names are appropriate to be honored,
 - c) Criteria are unclear as to how the applicant should demonstrate the support for the name change.
- E. There are currently three petitions for honorary street name changes that are in various stages of the City process:
- 1. Adam Galvez (currently the transmittal is in the Council Office – the Administration's recommendation in the transmittal is to hold action on this petition until a more concrete policy can be developed and adopted).
 - 2. Japantown Street – honorary street name for 100 South between 300 West and 200 West. This petition has been submitted but has not been assigned to a planner for processing (see item F below).
 - 3. Mt. Ararat – petition filed by a City resident for an honorary street name for 800 East between I-80 and 3300 South (much of this is outside of the City limits). Contact information on the application is incomplete, and further information is needed. This petition has also not been assigned to a planner for processing (see item F below).

- F. The Community Development Department would appreciate Council direction as to whether Planning should cease accepting Honorary Street Name Change applications until a formal policy can be adopted, or if they should continue accepting applications with the intention that they will not be processed until a formal policy can be adopted.

OTHER CITY HONORARY STREET NAMING RESEARCH

- A. Council Staff did preliminary research on the Honorary Street Naming Ordinance currently in place in Chicago, which is known for its prevalence of honorary streets. Standards are minimal and general, and the Council (consisting of 50 Alderman) bases decisions largely on the recommendation of the Alderman representing the particular district where the honorary name is proposed. Since the ordinance's inception in 1984, Chicago now has approximately 1,300 honorary street names, honoring figures both alive and dead, as well as sports teams, significant City places, and radio stations.
1. In March 2006, a controversial honorary name was proposed for a former black panther leader. As a result, the Chair of the Transportation Committee (the Council Sub-Committee that recommends passage or denial to the full Council), proposed amendments to the ordinance including:
 - a. requiring a full biography of the person proposed to be honored,
 - b. a list of the organizations recommending passage,
 - c. a summary of the relationship of the person to be honored with the street to be named,
 - d. possibly limiting the number of honorary street names to two per district per year.
 2. None of these proposed amendments were passed and the Transportation Committee is still studying the issue.
 3. The Council is still considering and adopting honorary street names.
- B. In June of 2005, The City of Milwaukee adopted standards mirroring Chicago's regarding honorary street name changes.¹
1. Requirements include:
 - a) Application fee
 - b) A written proposal of the street to be named
 - c) A biography of the person or meaning of the proposed name
 - d) A description of the rationale for naming the particular street
 - e) Letters from supporting organizations
 - f) The clerk shall then provide written notice to property owners along the street, of the public hearing (held by a sub-committee of the Council in this case), where the proposal will be discussed.
 - g) The clerk will also provide a postcard survey to owners. If more than 50% do not want the honorary name, the proposal is automatically dropped.
 2. The criteria that the Milwaukee Common Council must use to evaluate a proposal for an honorary street name include the following:
 - a) The proposed name cannot duplicate any other official street name
 - b) The proposed name cannot override a previous honorary designation
 - c) When a street name has been given an honorary designation, no other proposals shall be considered for a period of 10 years

- d) Names that could be considered derogatory to a person, organization, religious, ethnic, or disabled persons, or names that could be considered obscene or blasphemous shall not be considered
 - e) Names of individuals will only be considered if it is determined that it is in the public interest to honor the individual for historical or commemorative reasons, and that the individual portrays a positive image and is or was associated with or made a significant contribution to the public
 - f) Names of individuals who have made significant contributions to the Milwaukee community shall be preferred over names of national figures
 - g) The name of an individual may only be considered if the individual is deceased or has attained the age of 70 years
- 3. In the event that an honorary street name request is not approved, the applicant may not reapply for the same honorary street name for a period of one year, nor may the applicant apply for the use of a different honorary name for the same street segment.
 - 4. In September of 2006, the Council voted to approve an honorary street name change for a man who was killed trying to stop a burglary at a neighbors home. Members of the Council voiced concerns that grieving relatives would result in a large number of requests for honorary namings.²
 - 5. On September 26, 2006 the Council voted to place a moratorium on the "...consideration of all street renaming or honorary street naming requests involving the names of crime victims until such time as the City has developed and adopted a policy on the use of crime victim names in official street renamings or honorary street namings."³
 - 6. No formal policy has been presented to the Council as of yet.

RE: Petition 400-06-33: Honorary Street Name Change by Michael Clara, Junior Cruz, and Boy Scout Troop 987 for 300 South Street between Redwood Road and Interstate 15 to be given an honorary name of "Adam Galvez Street"

STAFF CONTACTS: Marilynn Lewis, Principal Planner, at 535-6409 or marilynn.lewis@slcgov.com

RECOMMENDATION: That no action be taken until policy and procedures pertaining to honorary street name changes are approved by the Salt Lake City Council

DOCUMENT TYPE: Resolution

BUDGET IMPACT: None. The cost of installing the new street signs and replacement of these signs will be at the expense of Michael Clara, Junior Cruz, and Boy Scout Troop 987.

DISCUSSION:

Issue Origin: Michael Clara, Junior Cruz, and Boy Scout Troop 987 submitted an application to Salt Lake City to honor a member of the Poplar Grove community, fallen Marine Corporal Adam Galvez by adding the honorary name of "Adam Galvez Street" to 300 South Street (between Redwood Road and Interstate 15). Corporal Galvez was killed in the Iraqi conflict earlier this year.

Background: Over the years the Salt Lake City Council has approved various honorary street name changes. In recent years, national figures have been recognized: Martin Luther King, Jr. (600 South Street), Cesar Chavez (500 South Street), and Rosa Parks (200 East Street). These individuals were honored for their selflessness and leadership in civil rights issues. The Poplar Grove community wishes to honor one of the City's residents for his selflessness, leadership, and contribution to his country.

Analysis: The honorary street name change proposal was sent out to the pertinent City Divisions and Departments for comment. Those Departments included Engineering, Permits, Transportation, Public Utilities, Police, Zoning Enforcement, Public Services, and Fire (see Attachment 5: Department Comments). No negative comments were received.

Master Plan Consideration: The West Salt Lake Master Plan does not specifically address the issue of honorary street name changes. The vision statement of the Final Report of the Salt Lake City Futures Commission states that Salt Lake City “Embraces pluralism and encourages diversity in population, urban design, and cultural expression.”

PUBLIC PROCESS

Prior to submission of the Honorary Street Name Change application, the applicants solicited signatures from property owners on either side of the subject section of the 300 South Street corridor. Junior Cruz, one of the applicants, made a presentation to the Poplar Grove Community Council on September 27, 2006. After the presentation and discussion, a motion of support received unanimous support from those attending. The Poplar Grove Community Council Chair prepared a letter of support for the applicant, which was submitted with the original application (see Attachment 8: Original Application Packet).

On October 23, 2006, Staff held an Open House in the City County Building to obtain comments from the community and adjacent property owners. A total of 5 people attended the Open House. Staff did not receive any objections to the petition (see Attachment 7: Public Comments).

Please note that as part of the transmittal process, a meeting was held between Planning Staff and the Mayor, after which the Mayor indicated that given the apparent confusion regarding policy and procedures governing the Honorary Street Name Change process, the Administration should recommend that the Council put a hold on all considerations for Honorary Street Name Change applications, including the current application to honor Adam Galvez.

Planning Commission action is not required. Honorary street name changes have no effect on certified mailing addresses, business listings in any telephone directory, or on private business signs.

RE: Petition 400-06-33. Honorary Street Name Change for Adam Galvez
300 South Street (Between Redwood Road and Interstate 15)

The Salt Lake City Planning Division is currently reviewing a request from Mr. Michael Clara, Mr. Junior Cruz and Boy Scout Troop 987, requesting an honorary street name designation of 300 South Street, beginning at Redwood Road and ending at Interstate 15 to Adam Galvez Street. Certified street address will not be affected by an honorary street name. The honorary street name will be added to the 300 South Street signs at the expense of the applicant, similar to the honorary street sign of 600 South Street as Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard.

Enclosed, please find an area map showing the location and a letter from the applicant for the proposed honorary name change. The Planning staff must make a finding relating to the adequacy of public facilities and services intended to serve the subject property, including but not limited to roadways, parks and recreational facilities, police and fire protection, schools, storm-water drainage systems, water supplies, wastewater and refuse collection. Please let me know whether you find adequate services and/or facilities are provided, and whether the proposed conditional use for this property will have any impacts on existing services or the area. Please also provide us with any information you may have on the previous uses as they relate to your division or department.

Councilman Turner and the community are anxious to move this project forward quickly. Therefore, I would appreciate receiving your written comments by Monday October 23, 2006. If you have no issues I still need a response. You may of course email your comments to me. If you have any questions, email or call me at 535-6409. Thank you.

RE: Petition 400-06-33

I have reviewed the petition and do not see that any services provided by my department will be impacted by the conditional use as long as the certified street address will not be affected and will remain on the new signage.

I am in favor of the street name change - we recognize that with a thousand street signs and monuments we still could not adequately honor him and his life. Nevertheless, our nation owes a permanent debt of gratitude to the Adam Galvez's of our society, who have showed themselves ready and willing to give their "last full measure of devotion" to our democracy. It is with great anticipation that our community awaits the day that His name will one day weave through the fabric of our neighborhood for generation to come.

RE: Petition 400-06-33. Honorary Street Name Change for Adam Galvez
300 South Street (Between Redwood Road and Interstate 15)

The Salt Lake City Planning Division is currently reviewing a request from Mr. Michael Clara, Mr. Junior Cruz and Boy Scout Troop 987, requesting an honorary street name designation of 300 South Street, beginning at Redwood Road and ending at Interstate 15 to Adam Galvez Street. Certified street address will not be affected by an honorary street name. The honorary street name will be added to the 300 South Street signs at the expense of the applicant, similar to the honorary street sign of 600 South Street as Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard.

Enclosed, please find an area map showing the location and a letter from the applicant for the proposed honorary name change. The Planning staff must make a finding relating to the adequacy of public facilities and services intended to serve the subject property, including but not limited to roadways, parks and recreational facilities, police and fire protection, schools, storm-water drainage systems, water supplies, wastewater and refuse collection. Please let me know whether you find adequate services and/or facilities are provided, and whether the proposed conditional use for this property will have any impacts on existing services or the area. Please also provide us with any information you may have on the previous uses as they relate to your division or department.

Councilman Turner and the community are anxious to move this project forward quickly. Therefore, I would appreciate receiving your written comments by Monday October 23, 2006. If you have no issues I still need a response. You may of course email your comments to me. If you have any questions, email or call me at 535-6409. Thank you.

Honorable Ross C. "Rocky" Anderson
Office of the Mayor
451 South State Street Room 306
Salt Lake City, Utah 84111

Dear Mayor Anderson,

On behalf of Junior Cruz who is an Eagle Scout candidate, I am submitting this letter requesting that your office consider the honorary name change of 300 S. between I-15 and Redwood Rd. to ADAM GALVEZ ST.

Junior Cruz, along with members of Troop 987 just hand delivered a copy of this letter to the Planning Department in Room 406. As per the Honorary Name Change Application the following information was also submitted to the planning department: (1). Names and Addresses of all abutting owners along the segment of the street being renamed (2). Property ownership maps (known as Sidwell map) showing the location of the street and highlighting the street where the honorary name change is proposed. (3). A letter of support from the Community Council for the area where the honorary name change is proposed (4). Non-refundable filing fee of $250.00 due at time of application. I should add that the $250.00 check was donated to Troop 987 by Salt Lake County Assessor Lee Gardner. While it is not asked for in the application, we were informed by the planning department that we must also submit signatures of support from those living on 300 S. We are pleased to report that we submitted seven pages of signatures from homeowners on 300 S. supporting the name change. We are also including a Salt Lake Tribune article titled: Scout Seeks To Rename S.L. Street For Fallen Marine - September 16, 2006. This article by reporter Heather May gives an excellent overview of the Eagle Project and its purpose.

We have noted that that on February 3, 2006 - an honorary street name application was delivered to your office requesting that basketball player Karl Malone be added to a street in Salt Lake City. It appears that on March 14, 2006 - the issue surfaced on the agenda of the Salt Lake City Council. We respectfully ask that this street renaming request be given the same consideration as the Karl Malone application and attended to with all due haste.

In closing, we recognize that with a thousand street signs and monuments, we still could not adequately honor Adam and his life. Nevertheless, our community owes a permanent debt of gratitude to the Adam Galvez's of our society, who have showed themselves ready and willing to give their last full measure of devotion to our democracy. It is with great anticipation that many of us await the day, that His name, and all that it stands for will weave through the fabric of our neighborhood for generations to come.

Shalom,

cc: Mr. & Mrs. Anthony Galvez

Street salute to a fallen Marine?

Lesson in civics

By Heather May
The Salt Lake Tribune
Salt Lake Tribune

Karl Malone and John Stockton racked up record-breaking stats. So it was a slam-dunk decision to honor the former Utah Jazz giants by adding their names to streets around their home court at the Delta Center.

Adam Galvez preferred baseball to basketball and played catcher at a field on Salt Lake City's west side. No sports superstar, the Marine made his name on the battlefield of Iraq and perished last month in a roadside bombing.

But getting Galvez's name added to a street near his childhood diamond is no home run.

At 21, Galvez is the only Salt Lake City resident known to have died in the Iraq war, although others have lived in Utah's capital at some point in their lives, according to Salt Lake Tribune records.

Fifteen-year-old Junior Cruz didn't know Galvez, but the Boy Scout wants to join the National Guard, and he wants to earn his Eagle. So the west-sider is proposing adding Galvez's name to 300 South between Interstate 15 and Redwood Road because the street runs near the Sherwood Park baseball fields where the fallen Marine played as a boy.

Cruz, who has a backup plan to add Galvez's name to a ball diamond, is no political expert. But the East High sophomore is astutely raising the comparison between how the public idolizes millionaire sports stars and how it treats soldiers.

"If they name streets after basketball players, why not name streets after soldiers that fought for our freedom?" wonders Cruz, who is in the ROTC.

In a letter seeking support from community leaders for his idea, Cruz added: "My Scoutmaster has taught us who we honor as a city will tell the next generation a lot about who we were as a people. I want kids that go to Franklin Elementary [also on 300 South] to know that we will always remember soldiers like Adam Galvez who sacrificed for us."

The City Council, which would decide if the honorary street name goes through, hasn't yet lined up behind the idea.

Michael Clara, Cruz's troop leader, initially approached Councilman Carlton Christensen about renaming 600 North because Galvez's parents live in Christensen's northwest district. Christensen was hesitant.

"First and foremost, it's a very genuine and very honorable way of recognizing this young man who passed away," the councilman says.

But he wonders about other residents who would want to honor their fallen soldiers from past wars. Would this open the floodgates? A better way, he suggests, may be to build a memorial to all Salt Lake City soldiers.

While the city policy on honorary street names is loose, Christensen says recent changes have centered on national figures. Martin Luther King Jr. graces 600 South, Cesar Chavez 500 South, Rosa Parks 200 East.

Re: Honorary Street Name Change Policy Modifications

Due to the unclear procedures and policies and increasing requests for approvals, the Planning Division is requesting a review of the process for Honorary Street Name Changes. Currently, the public is able to apply for an honorary street name change through the Planning Division. The materials required by the application are inconsistent and the criteria unclear for what categories of names are acceptable and how to demonstrate support for street name changes. Therefore, the Planning Division would like to analyze the issue and prepare recommendations regarding a procedure and set of guidelines for honorary street name changes that the City Council can review and adopt.

Some of the changes proposed include:

- Guidelines on who may apply for an honorary street name change;
- Who or what may be honored (limited to historical figures/events and school mascots) and what criteria will be used to determine the appropriateness of the request;
- What City departments, divisions, and agencies should be asked for comments;
- The avenues by which the City will notify affected parties of the proposed name change and how their input will be received and considered; and
- The appropriate City Department to handle the requests.

Currently, the Planning Division has three applications for honorary street name changes that originated from the public. There are requests for street name changes to honor Marine Corporal Adam Galvez, Mount Ararat, and the Japantown area. None of these requests follows the general idea of honorary street name changes being limited to historical figures or high school mascots.

Given this apparent confusion, the Community Development Department recommends that City Council place a hold on applications for honorary street name changes until the Planning Staff has had time to develop and discuss procedural changes with City Council. It is anticipated that these changes will be submitted to the City Council for their review and adoption by January 15, 2007.
